Independence in a secure environment

Feltonfleet offers an unrivaled weekly boarding experience for girls and boys from eight years of age. This is particularly beneficial for children moving on to senior boarding schools. Children can board as full weekly boarders or as flexi-boarders (one, two or three nights across the week).

We want our children to spend time with their friends...

The Boarding House has a real 'family atmosphere' about it. The Boarders spend their free time together, eat meals together and learn together. They make friends not only with their peers but with younger and older children across the school. They are with their friends when they have projects to work on, revision to do or when they want to spend long summer nights playing games out on the fields.

We want our children to be confident and happy...

Boarders learn valuable skills of independence, within a secure and supportive environment. They take responsibility for themselves and others in their dormitories and the House and have many opportunities to hold positions of responsibility.

why board?

fulfilling potential

We want our children to have an all-round learning experience...

Boarders have unique opportunities to develop and extend their learning. Their House Tutors (who are members of the teaching staff) are always on hand for advice and help with homework and projects. They have access to the school's extensive learning resources out of hours – the ICT suite, music practice rooms, the DT room, etc. When it is exam time, the House Tutors are there to offer support and lead revision sessions to guide boarders during this busy time.

We want our children to board in a modern Boarding House...

Boarding at Feltonfleet is a very modern experience. The Boarding House is a family home set within a traditional manor house and extensive grounds. The House is very much at the heart of the school, filled with fun, laughter, excitement and a community that lives, learns and laughs together.
